

COHASSET

VOLUME II.

COHASSET, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1883.

NUMBER 35.

TOWER, BRO. & CO.,

COHASSET.

Have constantly on hand and for sale the most desirable grades of

Range and Furnace Coal

At reasonable prices. Also dealers in

LONG AND SHORT

LUMBER,

Bricks, Cement, Lime.

Window Glass and Putty.

Builders' Hardware.

Painters' Supplies, Etc.

Office and Wharves on Border Street.

S-ly

Z. RICH,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING

UNDERTAKER,

Elm St., COHASSET.

Would respectfully inform the public, that having made arrangements with one of the best undertakers in New England he is prepared to handle all the funeral services things pertaining to the business, of the best quality and at low prices, and for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

on hand for the convenience of his customers

Cohasset Cottage.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

AT COHASSET, MASS.

ADVERTISING RATES VERY LOW.

Subscription Price $2 per year.

SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS.

NEWCOMB BATES - AGENT

We shall go to press early next week. Advertisers and contributors will please send in their matter by Wednesday night.

The PRINTER'S MISTAKE.

In the last issue of this paper the article headed "Change of Standard Time," there appeared a statement that would tend to give the public a wrong impression of the change. We desire to say that in the copy which we received from the Editor the article was written correctly, but as we ourselves were laboring under a wrong impression of the case, and thinking that the Editor had himself made a mistake we took the liberty to change the copy. We would make this statement in order to relieve the Editor from all criticism, as we understand that he has heard from the Editor that various persons who were only too happy to pick up such a mistake.

The statement referred to read as follows: "The trains will be run by the same time table, but by the sun will really be running 16 minutes earlier than at present." The word "earlier" should have read "later" and the word was unnoticed by us until notified by the Editor. It will be seen by this that no one but ourselves was responsible for the mistake.

This statement is made to exonerate any all who have been blamed for our mistake.

C. W. LEACH & CO.,

Scituate, Nov. 23, '83. Publishers.

THANKSGIVING.

In compliance with the proclamation of the Governor and Commander in Chief, next Thursday will be observed throughout the State as Thanksgiving Day. From present appearances it promises to be a very quiet day in this town. The Nantasket Lodge, K.

H. have made arrangements for a grand ball in the evening, and this will probably be the only interesting event of the day. The following lines are respectfully dedicated to that day.

"Now comes the annual poetry feast,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow,

When roasts do barren grow, is very neatly gotten up, of a convenient size to carry in the pocket, and must prove a very valuable book to those interested in the subject upon which it bears. The book retails for twenty-five cents, which is certainly a very low price for a work containing so much valuable information.

LOCAL GLEANINGS.

Thanksgiving.

Tuesday and Mine Pie day.

Be sure not to eat too much.

Be sure to go to the K. of H. Ball at the Town Hall, Thanksgiving eve no pains to make it a very pleasant affair.

A valuable copy belonging to Mr.

E. E. Ellis, was struck by the express train last Friday morning, and was so badly injured that it had to be killed.

There were over 50 many watches and clocks set in one day before as there were last Sunday.

The "Old Farmers Almanac" for 1884 for sale at N. Bates' Periodical Store.

This is strange weather for November. The thermometer on Friday stood at 70° nearly all day Wednesday.

Arrived at Buenos Ayres, Oct. 9, hark, Thomas Fletcher, Capt. Jacob

F. Bates, from Brunswick, Ga.

Sailed, Nov. 19, Ship Phoenix, Capt. James Collier, for Bombay.

Arrived, Nov. 18, schooner Nettie

H. Dobbin, Capt. Finkham, with

Lackawanna coal for Tower, Bro. &

Co., and sailed 21st.

Arrived, Nov. 22, schooner Valparaiso with bricks for Tower, Bro. &

Co.

The schooner Hattie J. Averill, Capt. Collier, sailed Friday for the North Shore to deliver the six new life boats which Mr. Wm. Eddy has just completed for the Massachusetts Humane Society. They will be placed at Boston Light, Lynn, Baker's Island, Magalloway, Norman's Cove, and Woodward.

The barn of Mr. O. E. Madden at Gloucester Farm, was entered by burglars last Tuesday night and large quantities of grain were carried away.

No clue has been obtained of the thieves.

Rev. Mr. De Normandie occupied the pulpit of the First church last Sunday.

He walked into the grocery store and helped himself to the contents of the Thanksgiving cider barrel taking a good square drink. He then made up an awful face. The cider barrel and the vinegar had changed places.

To-morrow is the 100th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

It was our pleasure to visit on Saturday last, the Boston Skating Rink, owned and managed by Mr. Frank E.

Winslow, the proprietor of the popular Vineyard Rink. While there we witnessed some fancy bicycling by Messrs.

Wilmet and Sewell, which was excellent. The patrons of this Rink are among the best people of Boston, situated as it is on St. James Ave., and Clarendon St., in an aristocratic part of the city it is visited by those of first families. When in Boston and in want of some excellent amusement, give this Rink a call and we doubt but that it will be profitable to you.

In connection with the Rink, two speaking characters and includes generally every member of the Reading Company, with a large number of soldiers and supernumeraries. The London Refere, of Oct. 14th says:

"In the Rink," at the Adelphi is already an enormous success, and the Gaiter home nightly, weeping because they cannot get all the money into the house that it is so full. Crowds have to be turned away simply because there is no room for them. When I think of the hundreds of thousands of people who are so miserably poor, and who have to go to the Rink for amusement, and who have to pay for it, I am glad that the Rink is so successful.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

ready for occupancy in a few days.

The new building of the Young Men's

Association on the corner of

Islebury and Boylston streets will be

NORTH SCITUATE.

Alfred A. Seaverns is helping at the Variety Store during the holiday revue. T. W. Sheppard will preach in the Baptist church, Thanksgiving, at 10.30 a. m. The public are gener-ally invited.

E. E. Wentworth is laying the foundations for his carriage factory, blacksmith and paint shops.

The meeting of the County Commissioners at North Scituate Beach, has been postponed to the first of December.

The shoe shop of G. W. Bailey &

Co., will shut down, Saturday for two weeks. This will give the help a good chance to get over their Thanksgiving dinner.

Quite a number have turned out to work in the cemetery and a good deal of hard work has been done. All interested in the old portion of the yard should help improve this new part as the money received from sale of lots will go into the fund for improving the whole.

G. A. R. ITEMS.

A special meeting of Post 31, will be held at their hall, Monday evening,

Nov. 26.

The five comrades who attended the reunion at Wrentham, together with two others of Post 31, met at Comrade James Edson's Monday night, and enjoyed one of the Capt's far-

